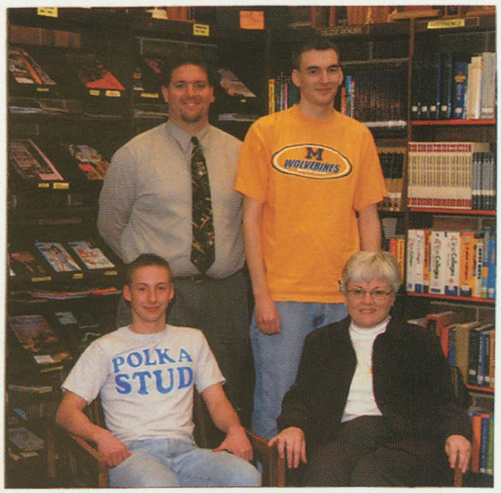
Class of '03 finds much to smile about

Seniors say "farewell" with eight consecutive float wins under their hats

The seniors took everyone for a ride showing off their winning roller coaster float "Millennium."



Class advisors Mr. Seeger and Mrs. Krauss sit with President Tom Halverson and Vice-President Zack Bringold. Missing: Misty Stockmeyer and Marshelle Woolever.

The seniors capture their last float win with their movie themed "Pet Cemetery" float.

The class of 2003 has definitely made many memories during the past four years that we have been together. While some of us grew up in Reese and others came here from elsewhere, we all managed to meet here at RHS. High School was something none of us could have anticipated, and now that we know the ropes, it is time to swing off into the unknown once again.

Our record of Homecoming-Comehoming float victories is remarkable; we showed the school we didn't need that cougar head to win after all. Our winning floats showed the hard work, dedication, creativity and imagination, that our class has in abundance.

There are so many paths to follow after high school: the armed forces; college; and the work force all offer different directions. We are in control of these decisions. No matter which direction you choose, don't forget where you came from, and keep your memories of RHS near and dear.

The class of 2003 is quite the unordinary class; but I am at loss to try and describe us with words- we're just that crazy! Our athletes have gone far-the girls' basketball team won their Conference championship, and just last year when our football players were juniors, the Reese Rockets fell one game short of playing in the Silverdome.

I personally wish all of you the best of luck in whatever endeavor you may pursue. I would also like to thank each of you for the memories you have given me during the past four years. Follow your dreams, achieve your goals, and jump your hurdles.

Good-bye, class of 2003!

You know you're at RHS when…

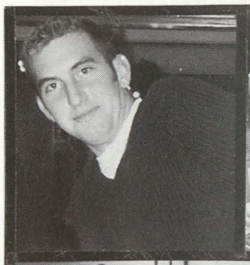
10. …you walk in the front door and you're already close to the back door.

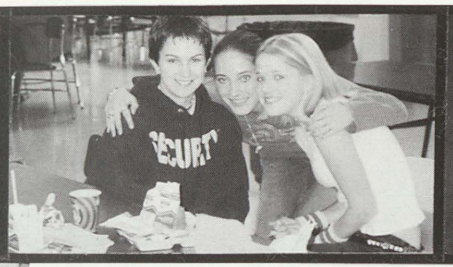
9. …Mrs. Krauss can take all the Advanced Writing assignments home in one folder.

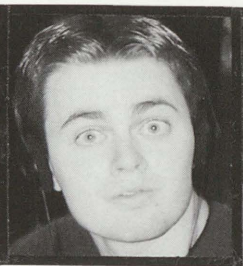
8. …the only music blaring on the classroom radios is Country Music.

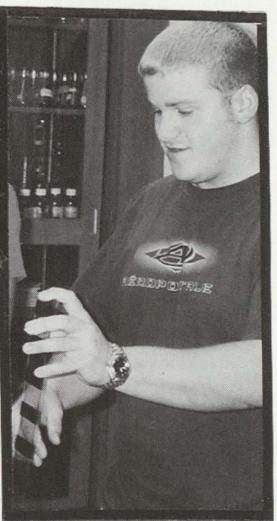
7. …the current Farmer's Almanac is required reading in your English class.

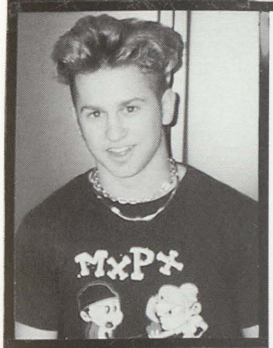
6. …you can fit the entire football team on one bus and still have room for the cheerleaders.

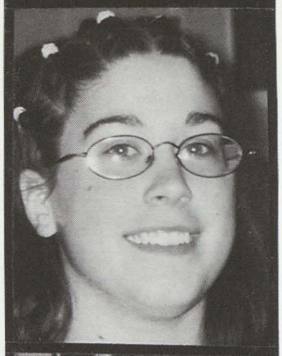


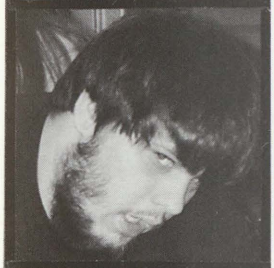


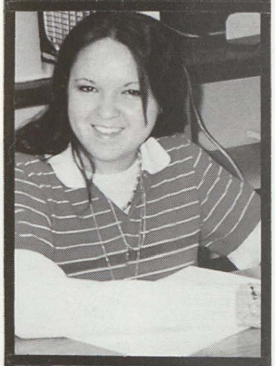


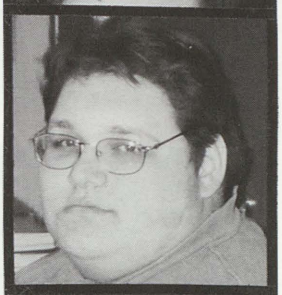


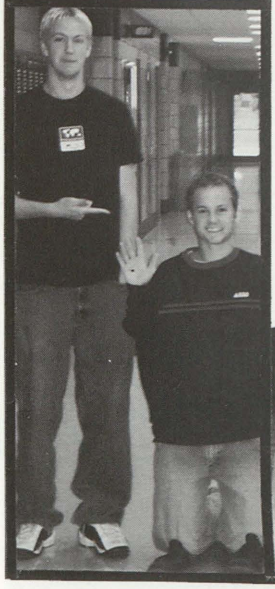


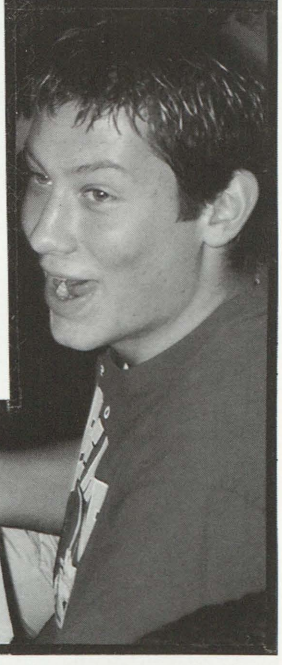


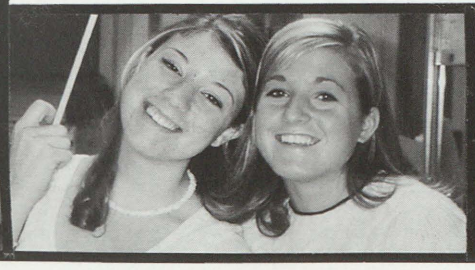


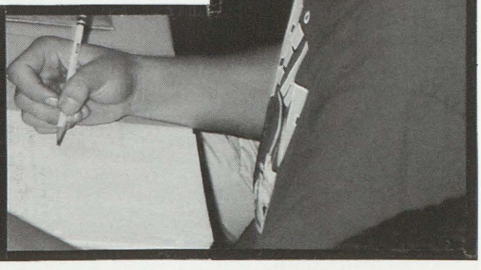












You know you're at RHS when...

5. ...the lunch menu consists of "everything on a bun."

4. ...you can hold the Junior/Senior Prom in the cafeteria.

3. ...on certain days in Spring, you find lawn mowers parked in the student parking lot.

2. ...someone sneezes in the science wing and hats "fly off" in the English wing.

1. ...a teacher calls out, "Hey, Bierlein" and seventeen kids answer, "Here!"

(With apologies to the "David Letterman Show")

Ben Kolhagen chosen for Comehoming King; senior class wins its final float

This year's Comehoming was a week full of fun and festivities. The seniors once again proved their float building skills with their movie themed "Pet Cemetery" float. This was the final win for the senior class, making them undefeated for all four years!

During the JV basketball game, the Comehoming King title was awarded to Ben Kolhagen. He later helped lead the Varsity basketball team to a victory over Mayville. Congratulations to King Ben Kolhagen and the rest of the Comehoming court!

The 2002 Comehoming King Scott Osantowski and his escort Jeanne Schluckbier pass the crown to the new King Ben Kolhagen.

Students swept away to a "Tropical Paradise"

Juniors provide a magical night for this year's Prom-goers

The Prom this year was at Curtis Hall in SVSU. It was beautifully decorated to go with the "Tropical Paradise" theme. The Prom- goers enjoyed a delicious tropical dinner.

The students and their guests danced the night away while enjoying the music Mr. Fuerst provided for the evening.

Many memories were made this year at prom. After a fun filled night at Curtis Hall, the Prom-goers headed to St. Elizabeth's Parish Hall for the After Prom Party.

The men and women smile pretty for the cameras as they wait to go to SVSU for their "Tropical Paradise."

After Prom-goers have a blast gambling the night away

After a magical night at Prom, students journeyed to the After Prom Party. It was held at the beautifully decorated St. Elizabeth Parish Center.

The After Prom-goers took their chances at gambling with chips given out at the door. The students also got a chance to be entranced by a hypnotist.

Prizes were given out to students who attended After Prom. The students were delighted after a night filled with fun and games.

Jerod Hill, Adam Cusenza, and Nathan Patton take their chances playing Blackjack against Dr. Finch.

Everyone is having a good time at the Poker table while Mr. Elliott tries to win their chips.

Senior class takes a voyage down to Ohio

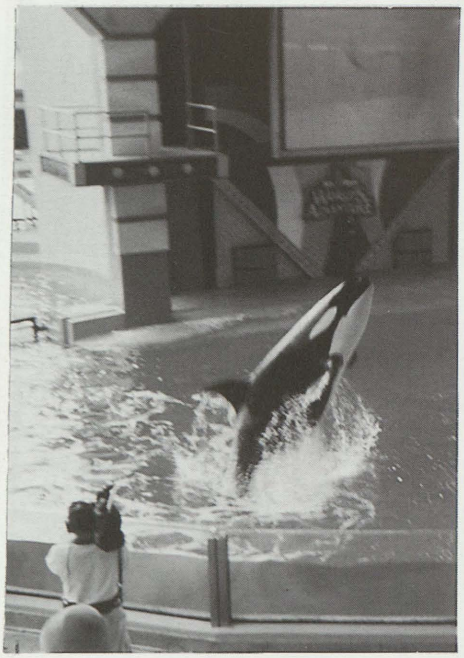
Students enjoy a day full of rock stars and rollercoasters

In the early hours of the morning, members of the senior class left for their senior trip. They loaded on a bus and moved from a little village to a big city. Their destination: Cleveland, Ohio.

The first stop was the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, where the students had a chance to learn about their parent's favorite musicians, as well as their own. Then the group rode roller coasters at the Six Flags.

As one of their last days together came to an end, they enjoyed the relaxation and each other's company on the trip back home.

The senior trippers stop for a picture in front of a rollercoaster at Six Flags.



"Free Willy" shows his stuff to the trippers at Sea World.

The girls and Brian Kern hang out near the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in Cleveland, Ohio.

The girls take a quick moment from their trip to show us their pearly whites at Six Flags.

Seniors say their final goodbye at graduation

The class of 2003 ends a chapter of its lives at commencement

The long journey for the class of 2003 finally came to an end. Their graduation ceremony was held on June 1, 2003 in the high school gymnasium.

The graduating students received diplomas for their years of hard work. Many students were also given scholarships and awards.

Many memories were made by this year's graduates. While Reese High School will be missed, they are now ready to start their own journeys through life. Good luck class of 2003!

Juniors jolt through last year as underclassmen

Class of '04 unleashes the beast on RHS; ready themselves for the MEAP

The Class of 2004 started another school year off great! With much anticipation they entered into their last year as underclassmen. With the theme for the Homecoming floats being roller coasters, the juniors chose "The Beast." Even though they didn't win, they had fun being involved.

The theme for Comehomeing floats was movies, so the Juniors picked Twister for their awesome float.

They ventured on into the third marking period trying to make grades and prepping for the MEAP. Prom was next in order. The juniors picked "Tropical Paradise" for the theme. It was enjoyed by all. Now the year ends, and the juniors realize that they are now THE SENIORS!!

Sophomores step into second year at RHS

Class of '05 orders class rings and takes Gov./Econ

The class of 2005 started the year off right, by showing off their spirit during spirit week but fell short by a couple of points. They were beaten by the seniors. The class of '05 spent a lot of time building their float for Home coming. The float turned out well, even though the game was rather wet.

After getting beat during Homecoming week, the sophomore class bounced back with a big showing to build the Coming-home float, but once again they suffered a defeat, but you can't hold back this class's spirit. No matter what happens they will be there supporting their team.

They now move on to their last year as underclassmen. They will now be known as the JUNIORS.

Freshmen find life at RHS just fabulous

Class of '06 studies driver education; takes fieldtrip to Greenfield Village

With the new school year came new experiences and new friends for the Class of 2006.

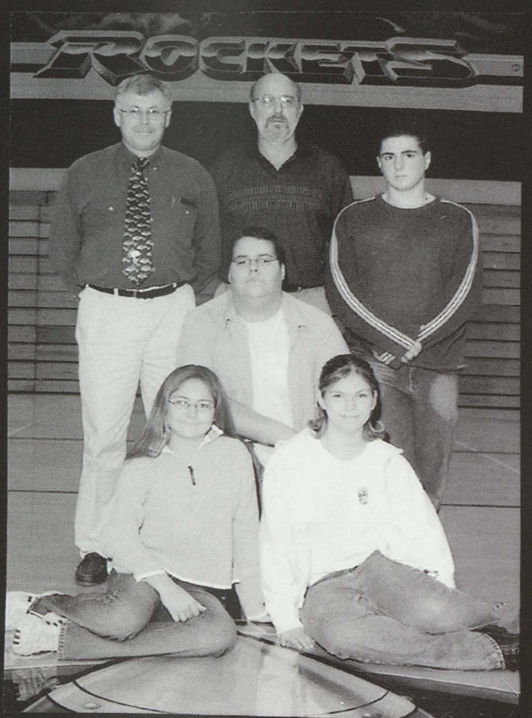
The freshmen had a great time winning the spirit award for the Homecoming pep assembly.

Driver Education is taken by most freshmen, and trying to keep the Reese roads safe is a constant effort.

Coming-Home also found the freshmen making a banner and a small float for the first time.

All of these new things help to bring the freshmen back as "big, bad," sophomores next fall.

It's a bird, no it's a plane, no it's Rocket man as he comes flying onto the field.



Mr. Behmlander and Mr. Elliott are the freshman advisers. This year's class officers include: Louise DuRussell, president; John Ward, vice-president: and Lindsay Kaufman, treasurer.

Students find office staff helpful and friendly

Keeping things running on an even keel requires a competent front office staff

The office staff has worked very hard this year to keep the school running efficiently and smoothly.

The secretaries' days have been filled with filing paperwork, helping keep track of skipping students, and keeping the office and school organized.

The counselors are always there to help out students in need, guide freshmen through their first year here at RHS, and help the seniors with their college choices and applications.

With these fine people working together, it is no wonder RHS is regarded as one of the best high schools in the area.

The "Three Muskateers" of the front office, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Hadaway, and Mrs. Wright, keep RHS running smoothly and are willing to help students whenever they can. Keep smiling, ladies!

Staff keeps students on task

Ms. King new face on RHS staff

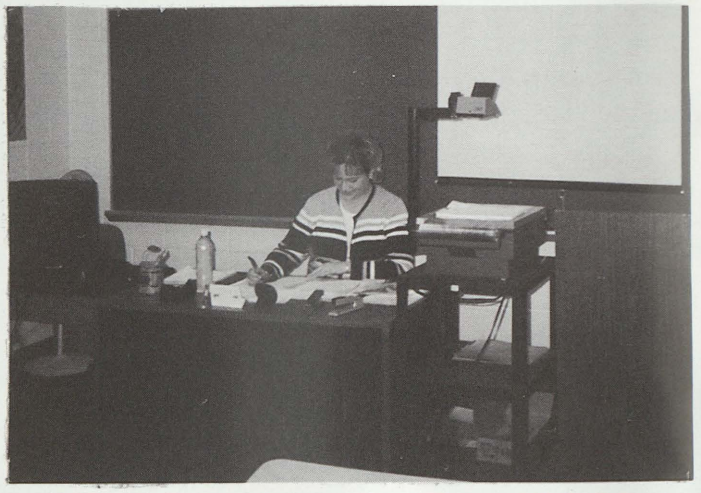
This year the teachers of Reese High School have done a great job of meeting our needs. They have put a lot of time in teaching the students and participating in activities outside of school.

The staff is always willing to help out a student in need and they always have a smile on their face to brighten our days.

Besides school, you can find teachers supporting the students at both academic and athletic events. Thanks for always being there!

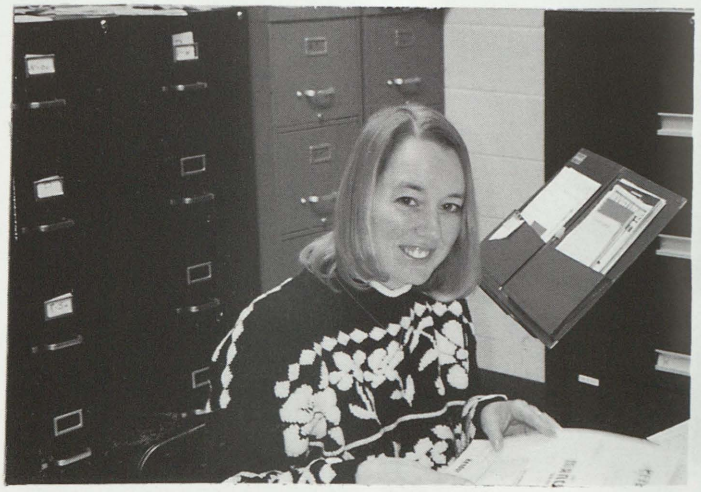
A quick visit to the Reese High School library has Mrs. Allwardt showing us some of the new books she has just purchased. She is also a co-advisor for the SADD branch at RHS.

Mr. Buschlen teaches freshman and sophomore English. She also goes to the Middle School each day for one class.

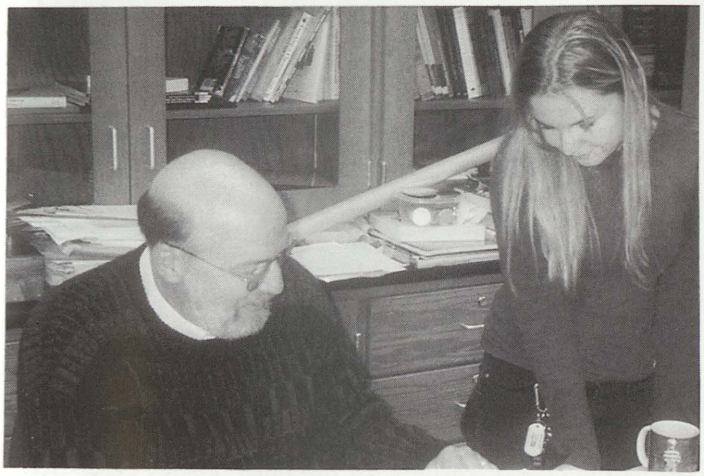


Mrs. Connelly teaches math at Reese High School. She also serves as a class advisor for the sophomores.

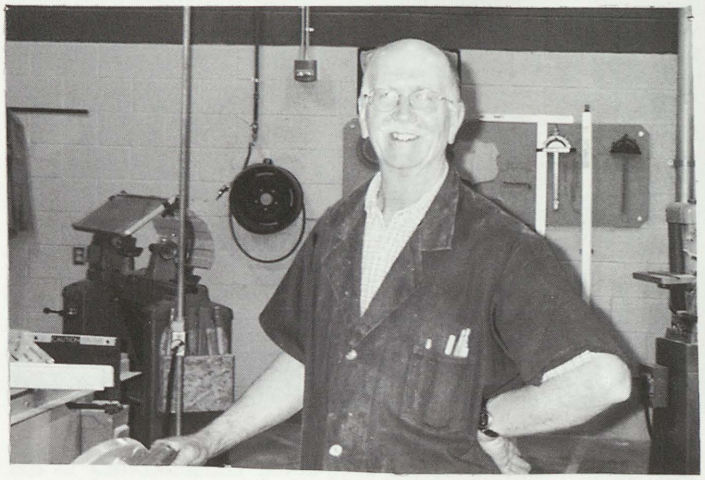
As well as being one of the sponsors of the Out-of-Doors Club, Mr. Hannah teaches special education courses at Reese High School. Here he teaches his math class how to multiply and divide fractions.



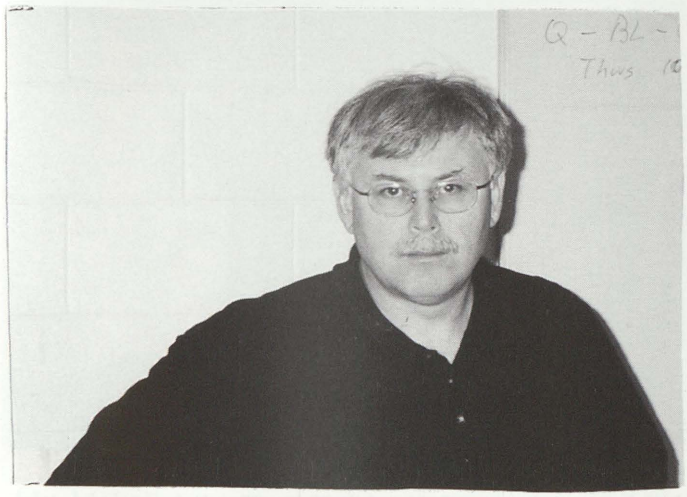
Ms. King teaches band at both the high school and the middle school. She also directs the pep band for home basketball games.



Mr. Behmlander teaches in the science department and coaches varstiy girls' softball in the spring.

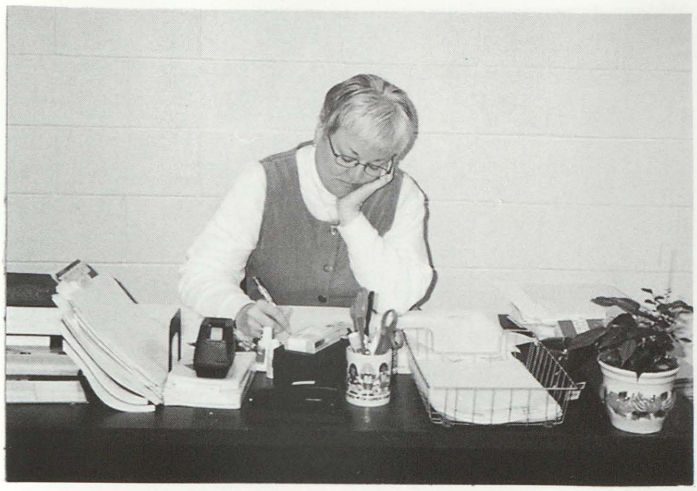


A smiling Mr. Brown takes a breather between shop classes. If anything needs fixing at RHS, from vehicles to desks, Mr Brown is the man to call on.



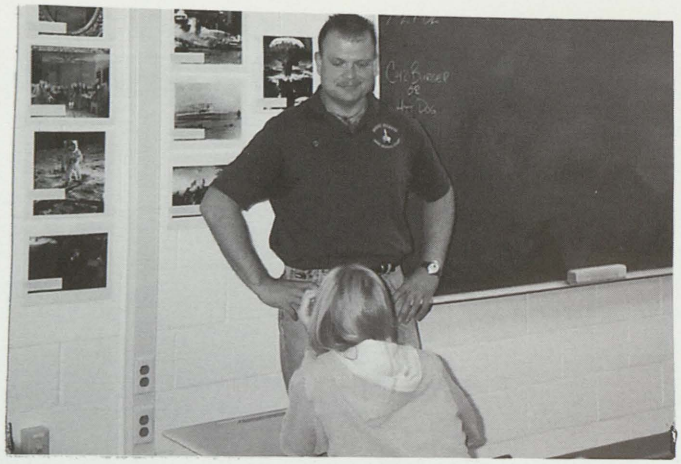
Mr. Elliott teaches the required CL/CP class, computer applications, and history during the day. He is also the pro-gram director for driver education for the Reese district.

Reviewing for his history tests, Mr. Fuerst's "Freaky Follies" make studying fun. He also coaches freshman football in the fall, and has his own D.J. business on the side.

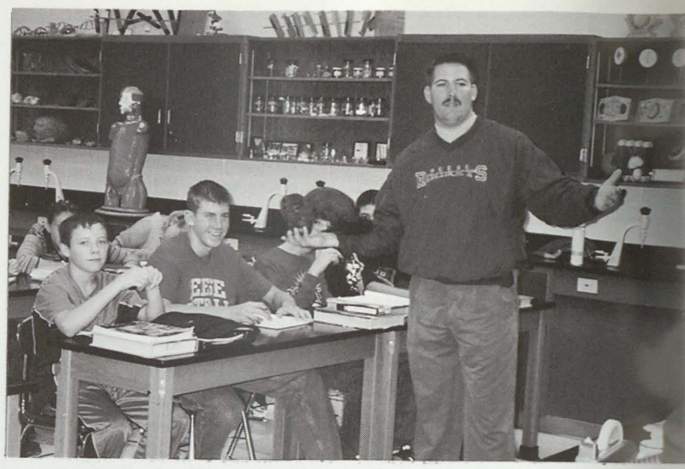


Worn out from busy day teaching English and writing classes, Mrs. Krauss takes time to correct some homework from the day before.

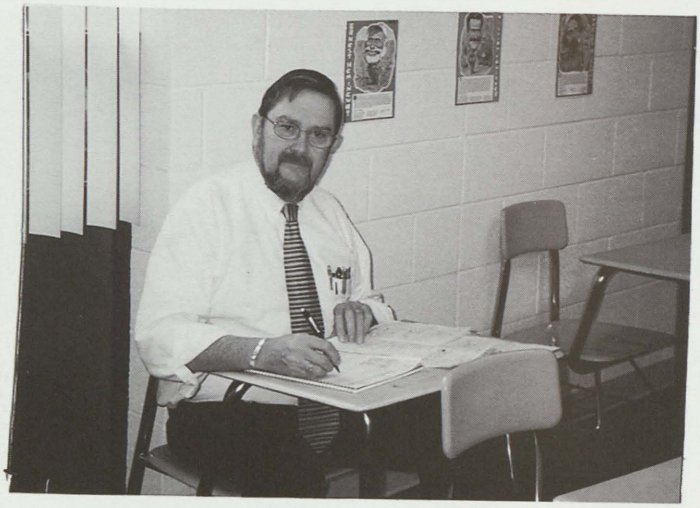
Mrs. Landskroner teaches a Math lesson to her Applied Geometry class third hour. She also teaches Family Living.



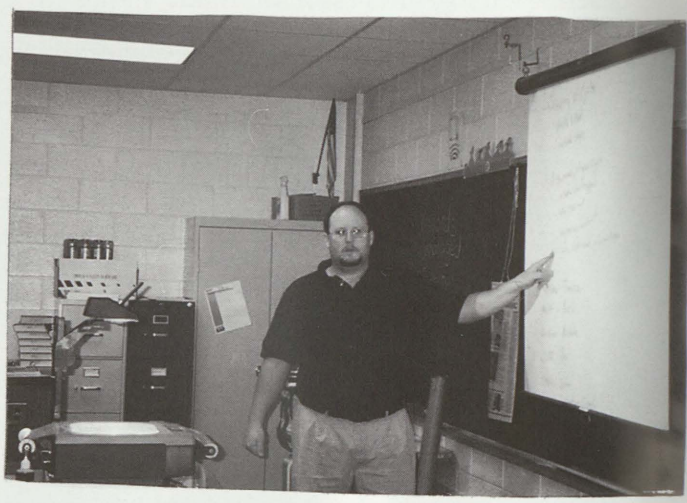
Mr. Larges talks to Trisha Hill about chromosomes in his science class. Mr Larges is also very active in the boys' track program in the Spring.



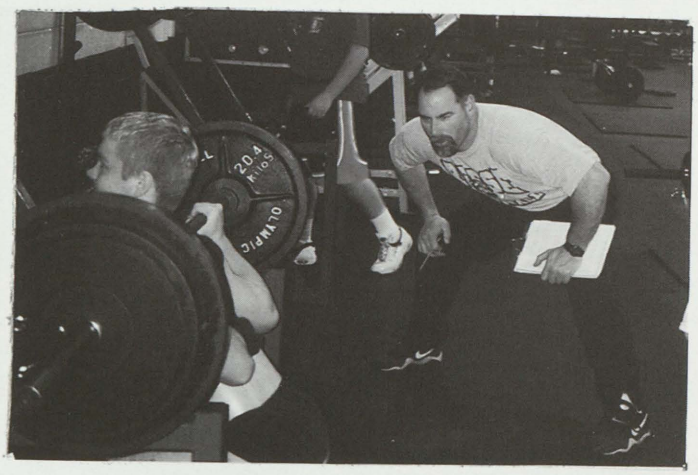
Mr. Lefler enjoys teaching his freshman biology class. He i also one of the advisors for the Out-of-Doors Club.



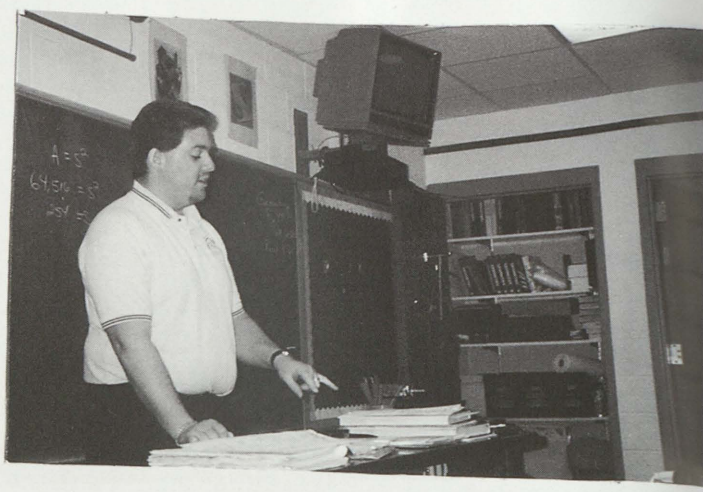
Mr. Matuzak teaches English, leads the construction of the yearbook, and coaches the English Academic Games team.



Mr. Matzke teaches Applied English I, applied biology, and coaches JV softball.

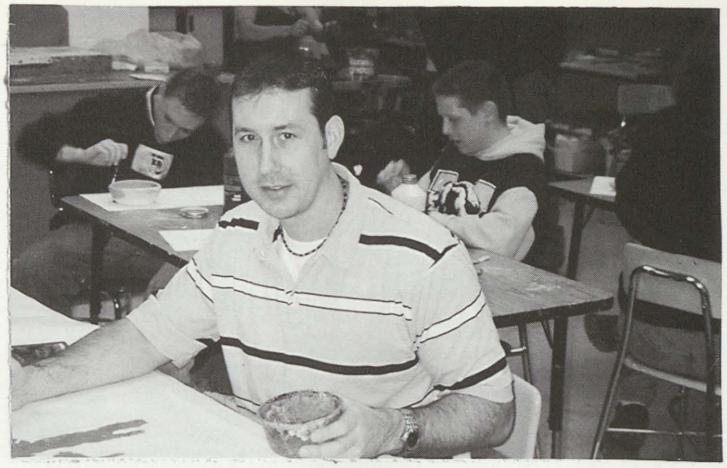


Mr. Saylor teaches strength training and phys. ed. He is also the head coach of the Varsity football team.



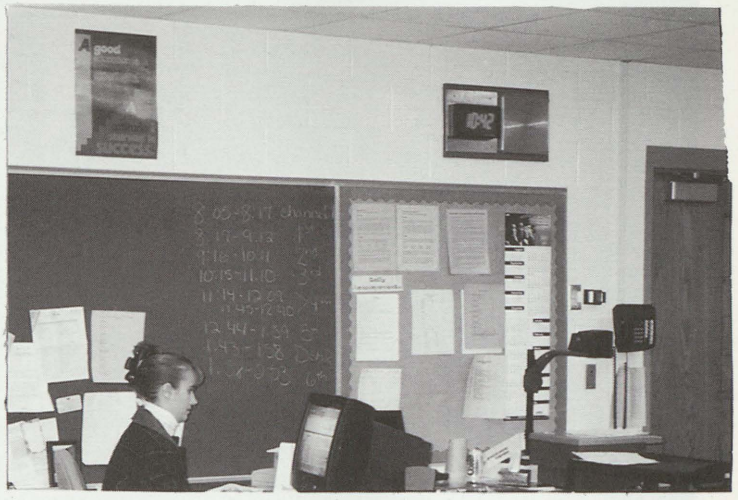
Mr. Seeger teaches geometry and algebra II. In the sports department, he coaches girls' track and girls' basketball.

Mr. Malow smiles as the choir class gets ready to practice. Mr. Malow teaches classes in all three buildings.



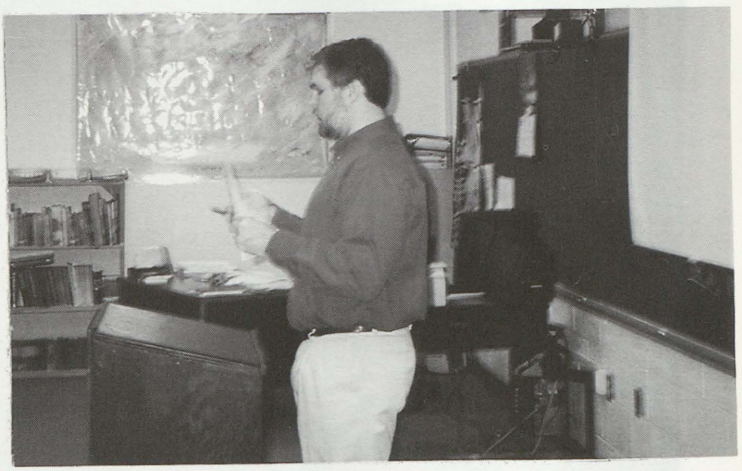
Mr. Manning paints a picture to show his students how the job is done. Mr. Manning also coaches forensics.

Ms. McLellan pauses for the camera as she does her daily attendance. She is one of the physical science teachers here at RHS.

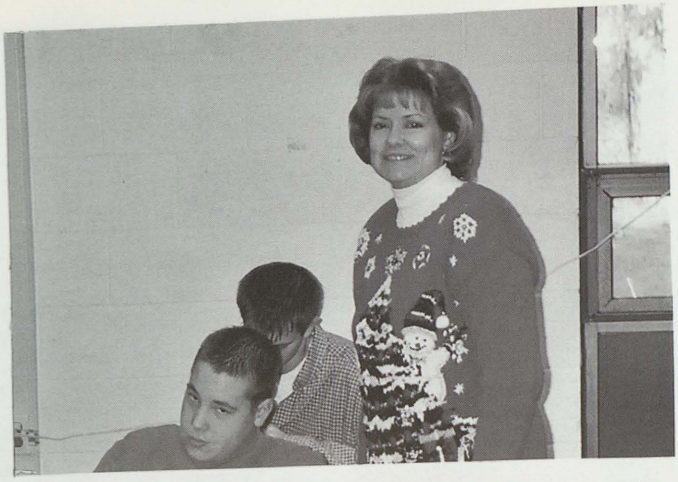


Ms. Muselin teaches a variety of courses here at RHS. They range from CL/CP to business/personal law.

Mrs. Smith hurries to the office to make copies for her government class. She also is the Close-Up adviser.



Mr. Terbush teaches history, advanced communications, and government. He also advises the Web Site Club.



Mrs. Vosler checks over the shoulder of Tyler Squanda to see what he has accomplished on his homework. She also teaches German.

Ms. Johnson was a student teacher in Mr. Matuzak's English classes this year. She smiles for the camera as she stops for a quick break.

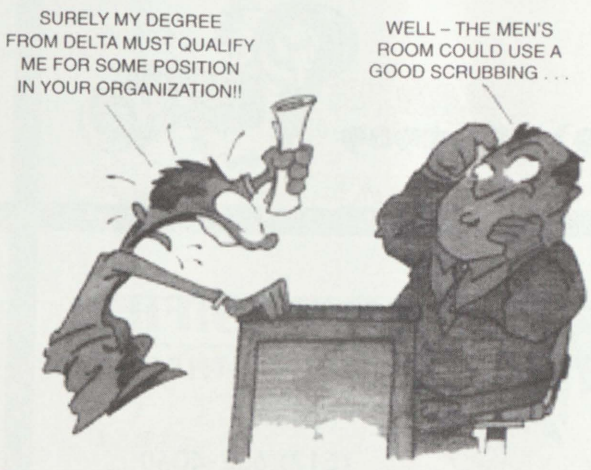
6 myths

About your local community college

Myth No. 2

A degree from Delta isn't as good as a university degree.

Now wait a minute. Whoever started this one must have been absent the day they taught common sense. A degree from Delta College, in many cases, is a step directly into the job market. It means a career with responsibilities and chances for promotion and personal growth. Or, a degree from Delta means leaving us and attending the university of your choice and graduating with a baccalaureate degree, which can open up a host of possibilities. Remember, attending Delta for two years gives you two years to save money, and that could give you the opportunity to go away to a university without going into debt for the next 10 years. We are the school that wants you to go someplace else, after us! That's the Delta Difference. Remember, it's quality, affordability and personal attention.



SURELY MY DEGREE FROM DELTA MUST QUALIFY ME FOR SOME POSITION IN YOUR ORGANIZATION!!
WELL – THE MEN'S ROOM COULD USE A GOOD SCRUBBING . . .

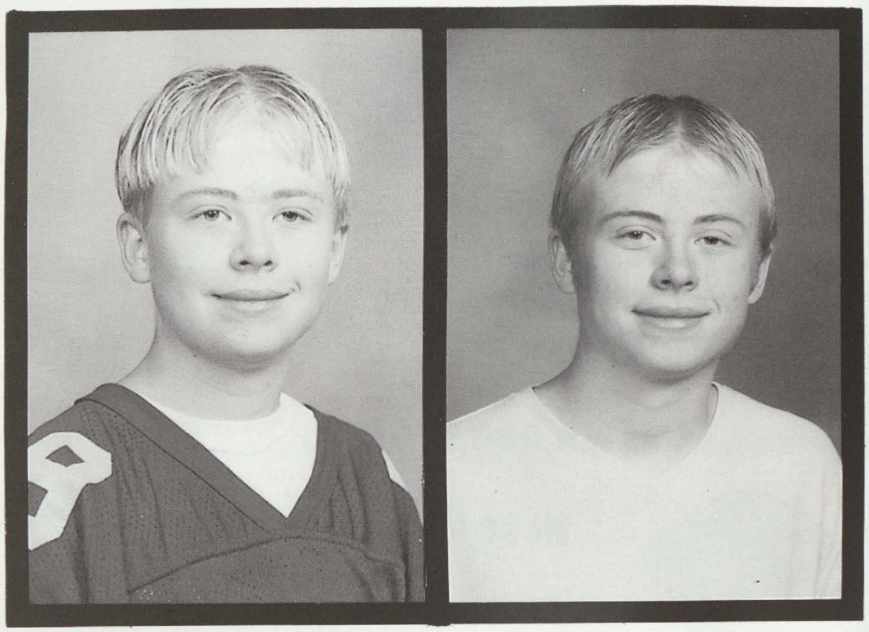
May we never say "goodbye"...

"If I should die and leave you here for awhile, be not like others, sore undone...for my sake turn again to life and smile. - M. L. Hall"

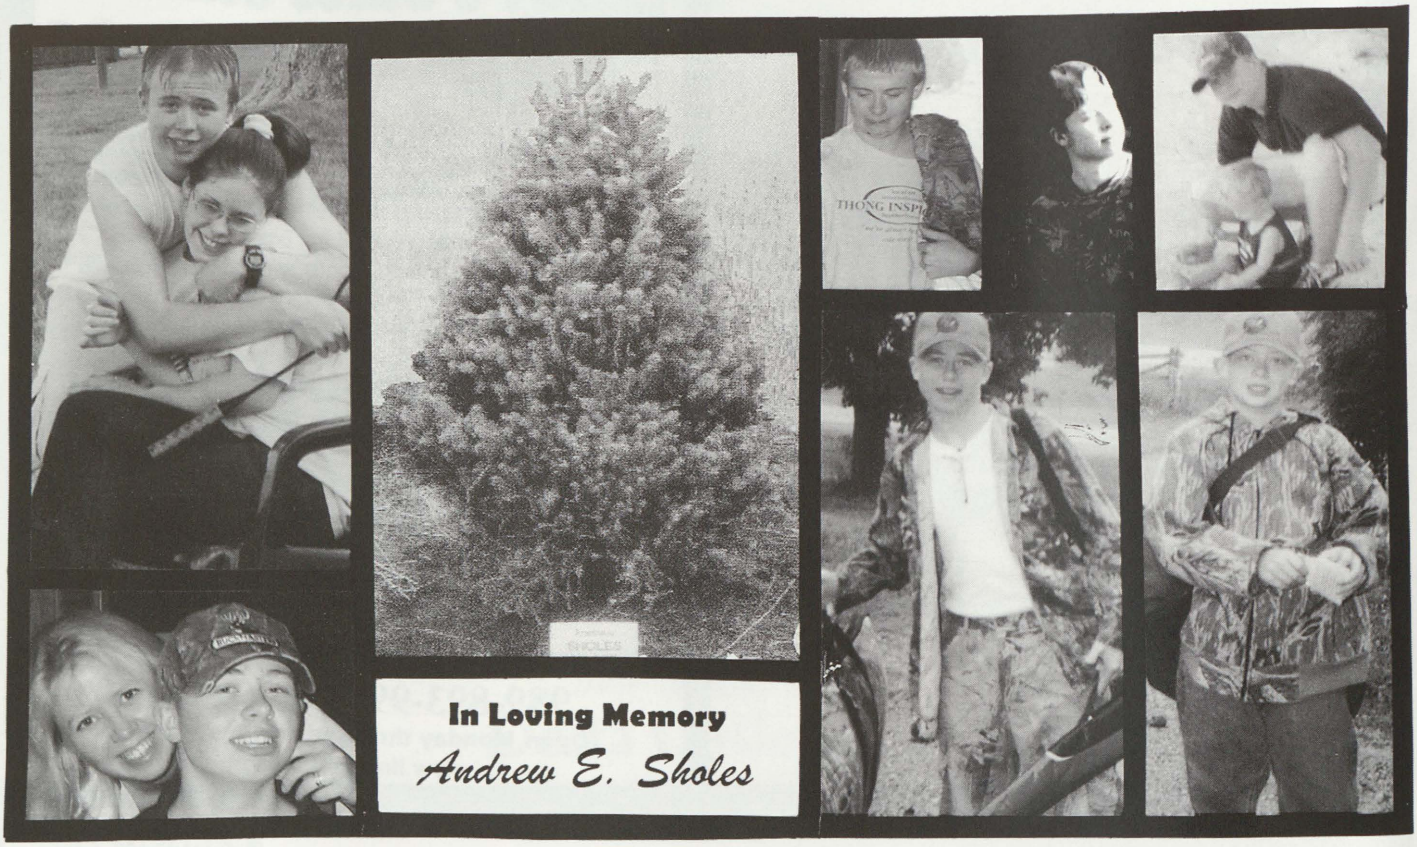
A friend, classmate, son, and brother, lost his life on October 19, 2002. Andrew Sholes was an individual who seemed to find the comedy in any situation.

He was an outdoorsman and a great member in the Reese Out-of-Doors Club. He helped in all of their projects and just loved being out in the untamed wilderness. With that in mind, they planted a tree in his honor. This way, he will always have his presence in the place that he respected the most: the outdoors.

Though his existence is no longer with us here on earth, he will always have a place in our hearts. Let us cherish the memories that we have of him and for his sake, turn again to life and smile.



Above: Andrew was bursting with smiles as he entered his freshmen year at RHS and he remained that way through his junior year.



Mrs. Weier moves to a new setting; retirement

Current RHS Principal decides to step away from many years of mentoring

Here we see Mrs. Weier from her earlier years as a teacher (late 1970's) and her final year at RHS as the principal (2003).

It all began in the fall of 1973 when a young, first-year teacher by the name of Ms. Diana Hardy stepped through the doorway of Reese High School. Little did she know at the time how many lives she would touch and how many memories she would make.

As the years went by, Ms. Hardy soon became Mrs. Weier. She married Mr. Tim Weier, who was a math teacher at RHS.

Their children, Lissa and Marc both attended the Reese Public Schools, and are now grown and on their own.

We wish Mr. and Mrs. Weier all the luck in the world in their years of retirement.

Left: Mrs. Weier proudly presents her retirement cake. Right: Mrs. Smith gives Mrs. Weier a gift, just as she has shared hers as a teacher and as a principal.
